

Sept. 6, 2008

The day we signed a contract with Eric Cashion of Liding Solutions was a most fortunate day for us.

Eric and his crew are not only competent, efficient, friendly, and honest but the most hard-working crew we have ever employed. We can't say enough about our experience with this company. We are totally pleased with the work Liding Solutions did for us especially the unexpected attention to detail that we saw put into our project. Without hesitation we would highly recommend this company to others and would engage them again ourselves should the need arise. Rarely does a company this good come along.

Sincerely,
Paul & Al Kemminger
Escondido, California